KULM DIAMOND JUBILEE

KULM, NORTH DAKOTA JUNE 26 & 27, 1967 SUPPLEMENT TO 1957 JUBILEE BOOK

Dedication. . .

This book supplement to the 65th Kulm Anniversary book, is dedicated to those who remained, and those who came, to live and die on North Dakota soil. To those, both in town and on the farms that resisted the temptation to migrate during the many times when adversity, both economic and natural, make other pastures shine with green brilliance and promise. And, to those that joined them here at Kulm and in North Dakota to pick up the thread of history where others left off. And, to those who have moved to other parts of the world, but remain with us in heart.

This humble effort is done on their behalf.

Forward. . . :

Planners for this Kulm 75th Anniversary found themselves in a rather unique position of planning a major historical observance just a few months less than ten years since a similar occasion. In most of the general committee men's minds, the 65th Jubilee still held vivid memories, and in some there was anticipation caused by their absence ten years ago.

In the minds of all was the enthusiasm this great occasion generated. The feeling of those that started plans for this Anniversary observance was that it should be as great an occasion as possible, and joined by others, have worked toward that end.

The Jubilee committee felt that a publication of some sort was desirable for this observance, but that the work and expense of an entirely new history more or less duplicating the 1957 book was unjustified.

In the absence of other efforts, this writer offered the publication of a supplement to the 1957 Jubilee book, not to duplicate but to bring up to date, and offer a different approach to Kulm's 75 years of history. With the assistance of the staff of the newspaper, and many other helpers and contributors, the following information was compiled from back copies of The Kulm Messenger, Alumni Ass'n. files, school files, and from the hundreds of family albums and memories of residents, city and farm alike. Many contributed pictures, and many new pictures were taken. Many were taken directly from the files of the newspaper.

The book depends on financing only from itself without sponsorship, and is completely a local product, including printing and binding.

We hope that the product meets with your approval and many hours of enjoyment will be received during its reading.

--John E. Peters, Publisher --The Kulm Messenger

WHY KULM?

In a great country where the names of cities and towns often time are duplicated dozens of times over the 50 States, we find ourselves living in and near a city with a rather unique name, unduplicated in the United States, but with many counterparts in the world. Kulm is a blending of old and new. Its roots are in Europe and Asia Minor, yet several nationalities blended to make Kulm what it is today.

The early settlers came here from various places for free land, freedom of worship, to get out from under the heavy hand of the governments from which they came, for pure wanderlust, and to take part in a new land.

When the Northern Pacific Railroad was given a land grant to push a railroad from the twin cities to the Pacific Coast, the recruiters pushed throughout Europe to entice farm people and businessmen to come to the Midwestern and western United States to settle, to build towns and commerce and thereby create business for the railroad. To this day, real estate transfers and deeds make reference to the Northern Pacific Railroad in a wide belt across the northern tier of States.

The lure of free land brought many nationalities to the Dakotas, among them the Swedish and German peoples that make up the predominant part of the community. There are many other national origins represented, also, but these make up the majority.

The Swedish immigrants settled to the north of the city in what is now Swede Township in the 1880s and have the honor of the first postoffice in the region. At that time the Northern Pacific was building into LaMoure County through LaMoure and mail would be brought by horse or ox-driven vehicle from LaMoure. As the NP progressed to Edgeley mail was brought in from there. The North Dakota Historical Society has record of the post office at Newburg, on the Eric Bjur farm, with Bjur postmaster, being established in May of 1888. It continued in service until 1892 when the postoffice at Kulm was established. The Robert Lundgren farm now occupies the hilltop where Newburg Postoffice stood. Everyone passing the location can see the farm on the north side of high 13 about a half mile east of 4-mile corner (4 miles north of Kulm).

In the 1957 Jubilee Book the story of how the city was named for Kulm, South Russia, and Kulm, Germany is told. This only whets the appetite for more knowledge on the subject of why these people moved from Germany to Russia and then to Dakota, and why the name of Kulm.

Kulm is not too unusual a name outside our United States. In the course of research on the matter it was found there are Kulm, Germany; Kulm in East Prussia near the river Vistula (on some maps spelled Chulm, the Polish version); Kulm, Switzerland; and Kulm, Austria. There is also a Kulm Island in the Arctic Sea. It is very difficult to find maps that show Kulm in the area near the Black Sea where German ancestors farmed and worked, or Bessarabia as the area was known. An old map carries the town name of Kulmscaia, probably a Russianization of the name after the Germans left.

[picture: IN THE DAKOTAS the first homes were made of clay brick or adobe. This is the second clay house built by Christ Flegel and John Sperling in 1899. That's Christ and John heading for town in the wagon.]

Kulm, in Bavaria, the part of Germany where our town name came from was the location of a battle in 1813 on the 29th and 30th of August, when the French Army was defeated by the Russian, Austrian and Prussian armies. It is a town of approximately 11,665.

The migrations leading to the naming of Kulm, South Russia, and subsequent migration to Dakota, occurred in two great waves of Germans from the home country. The first was the Volga colonies, made up of 1000 professional people desired by the Russian government and the balance drifters, dreamers and indigent bankrupts that Germany would allow to leave. The German government heavily restricting movement to the Volga colonies.

Russia's second call for settlers was for the Black Sea Colonies in the area between the Dnieper and Prut rivers. They settled in what was then known as the colonies of Groszliebental, Johannestal, Friedenstal, Sarata, Kulm and many others in the great migrations from 1804 to 1817. This area was known as Bessarabia, and now is listed on maps as Moldavia, or Moldavian SSR.

This area was ceded to Russia at the peace treaty of Jassy in 1792 by Turkey, and included all territory from Astrakhan to the river Dneiper. The Tatars in the area refused to bow to Russian authority so the Germans were brought into the region as Tater-tamers.

These German peoples were hand-picked farmers, greatly desired by the Russians to settle the region. Their reasons for leaving Germany were many, including the promise of free land, freedom from military service, better living conditions and other concessions. They were promised tax exemption for ten years, cash grants to be repaid in 20 years, and equal treatment with native Russians. Each family received thirty Deszjatine of land. The promise was of a better life than in the years of wars, drought and depression in Germany.

Historians report that the Germans were deceived from the minute they set foot on Russian soil. They found conditions very hard, no trees, no fuel, and the Germans weren't allowed to teach, so the second generation of settlers grew up illiterate and in virtual slavery. Debts piled up to the crown. It was very hard.

But these people made progress, and named one of their towns Kulm, taught at home and made such progress in education that the Russian government made them teach Russian in 1880. They also made financial progress and the native population looked on the German colonies with jealousy.

In 1848 Alexander II, Czar, made a general overhaul of Russian laws, and the Germans found themselves subject to universal military service. All other promises the Russians had made to the colonists were long - past broken, but they withstood the setbacks and prospered. This last change broke the spirit of the colonists and they began migrating to other countries, particularly the United States. Those who stayed behind were sent to Siberia as traitors, put in camps, disowned, jailed and generally forsaken. The Germans who had settled one of the richest grain growing areas in Russia, and secured it against the Turks, were displaced. Many of them found homes in South central North Dakota, central and western South Dakota, and northern central Nebraska.

Kulm is on the northeastern edge of this great Russia-German settlement.

And, so..when the Soo Line advanced their right-of-way to this spot in 1892, it is almost unthinkable that our city would have been named anything other than Kulm.

The postoffice was established at Kulm in January of 1893 with Fred Buechler postmaster, and operator of the store in which it was housed. The postoffice was discontinued October 11, 1895, and mail was sent to LaMoure. In May of 1902, on the eleventh, the postoffice was re-established with George Finch the postmaster. Kulm was the terminus of this branch of the Soo Line until 1898 when it was extended westward to Bismarck, Pollack, and many other German communities. Kulm was incorporated as a city in 1906.

Many tongues are spoken in Kulm, and around, to this day, mainly Swedish and the local German. The Swedish maintain close ties with their mother country and it isn't unusual when a party from Kulm and Swede township travel extensively in Sweden visiting many friends and relatives there.

The German people speak the South Russian version of German. This is a predominantly German language with lots of Russian, Romanian, and Turkish words incorporated into it. Since the technical revolution in America, with hundreds of new machines and methods, these words have been incorporated, or the English word used in the midst of the sentence with little or no pause, and few thoughts that it is used. Anyone with an ear for languages can listen in a local cafe or public place and pick out enough words to get a general idea of the line of conversation.

[picture: DRAGGING IN 1916, behind the horses is a member of the Albert Nelson family.]

Life in the 1800s wasn't easy in Sweden, South Russia, Germany, or Norway, or any other of the countries that our settlers came from. Most of the pioneers farmed the hard way, tilling with oxen or horses and a trip to town meant long hours on driving, a trip of several days in many cases.

David Mueller, Jr., recalls that his parents' family lived in a frame barn while they built the house of homemade sun dried clay bricks and his father and uncle running a horse power threshing machine hand fed by two men. Mr. Mueller was born in 1898.

Later his older brother and he pitched the straw from under the straw-carrier of the old type threshing machines. This job was known as straw bucking. He recalls how their father hauled grain in sacks to the elevator, as the elevators then, were not equipped with wagon dumping devices, and when his sister, brother and himself herded cattle walking barefooted, for at that time there was open range and only a few fences.

The balance of Mr. Mueller's story has some interesting pioneer points:

In 1905 Mr. David Mueller Sr., sold out his entire farming interest to a party now unknown and started operating the farm of his Mother-in-law until 1907, while at Streeter four of the Mueller children were baptized at one baptismal ceremony in their home. Pastors in those days had to travel long distances by horse and buggy to serve their members. Occasional church services were held in the pioneer home; also school was kept in [the] home.

Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Mueller while living at Streeter, Gotthilf, Lydia and Edwin.

During the year 1907 the family moved back to Kulm and lived at Grandmother Neumann's place for three months and David Jr.'s. father and some of his friends decided to go south to evade the severe winters. Through the aid of a land agent by the name of Selmer, they traveled to Wichita Falls, Texas and located land, making a down payment of two hundred dollars each; however, because of railroad cars not arriving in time to move them and also they found that there were no churches of their faith in this far away land, the party then abandoned the plan, losing their money and land holdings. Later rich oil wells were found on this land in Texas. They then decided to farm near Kulm. Their father bought the Mack place one mile west of Kulm. The farm is now known as the Edwin Mueller farm, bought from Gottlieb Dobler who operated a general merchandise store at the time in the building that is now the Pool Hall owned by Albert Ernst.

During the fall of 1907 the family moved out to this farm. Their father, being a blacksmith, had his tools in an unfinished shop and called his boys out in the middle of the night in January of 1908 to help him nail up the west wall of the building for a snow storm had started. They worked for three hours to finish the job. David Jr. holding the lantern, his brother Otto handing the boards and their father nailing them in place. The second day after this blizzard, while walking to school, the boys found frozen cattle along the road. The cattle had strayed from a farm owned by a man named Reichenstein, then living on the place where Connie Kinzler's son now lives.

During 1911 a son, Albert was born to Mr. and Mrs. Mueller, Sr., and the same year their daughter Lydia passed away.

In the years of 1912 and 1913 he recalls severe hail storms destroying their crops completely of eight hundred acres. As no insurance was carried, their father was forced to buy seed both years from farmers living many miles south, by the name of Adam Lemke and Gottfried Henneberg.

During the spring of 1918, David Jr. took sick and developed pleurisy. Thru the recommendation of Dr. Theurer, a new comer to Kulm, his father sent him to the Lindlar Institute at Chicago. After four months of staying at this hospital, he fully recovered and, on returning home, went to work the same day he arrived. The hospital bill and passenger fare for him and the doctor, both ways, amounted to $750.00. After arriving home, he went to work unloading grain from the header box. David Jr. has enjoyed comparatively good health since and often times claims jokingly that the first complicate machine he ever learned to handle was a pitch fork, and he still can handle it quite well in spite of all the modern improvements added.

In 1924, Mr. and Mrs. Mueller's son Albert passed away.

In 1928 Mr. and Mrs. Mueller Sr. retired from farming and moved to Kulm.

David Jr. started farming in 1931 and relates in the four years he farmed he never used any harvesting machine as the drought destroyed all crops. He went to herding cattle then.

Mr. David Mueller, Sr. passed away December 22, 1950. Mrs. David Mueller, Sr. passed away February 25, 1952.

But hard work and progress helped the farmers and merchants building the area. Better machines and newer methods were developed and used. Planting, haymaking and harvesting became mechanized, crudely at first by present standards, but ever better.

Along with the tractor came the automobile, not necessarily accepted right away as these rules of the Anti-Automobile Society of 1909 will indicate. The society adopted the rules at conventions in various States.

1. On discovering an approaching team, the automobilist must stop off-side and cover his machine with a tarpaulin painted to correspond with the scenery.
2. The speed limit on county roads this year will be secret, and the penalty for violation will be $10 per mile for every mile an offender is caught going in excess of it.
3. In case an automobile makes a team run away, the penalty will be $50 for the first mile, $100 for the second mile, $200 for the third mile, etc. that the team runs; in addition to the usual damages.
4. On approaching a corner where he cannot command a view of the road ahead, the automobilist must stop not less than one hundred yards from the turn, toot his horn, ring a bell, fire a revolver, haloo and send up three bombs at intervals of five minutes.
5. Automobiles must be seasonably painted-that is, so they will merge with the pastoral ensemble, and not be startling. They must be green in spring, golden in summer, red in autumn, and white in winter.
6. Automobiles running on the county roads at night must send up a red rocket every mile, and wait for the road to clear. They may then proceed carefully, blowing their horns and shooting roman candles.
7. All members of the Society will give up Sunday to chasing automobiles, shooting and shouting at them, making arrests, and otherwise discouraging country touring on that day.
8. In case a horse will not pass an automobile, notwithstanding the scenic tarpaulin, the automobilist will take the machine apart as rapidly as possible and conceal the parts in the grass.
9. In case an automobile approaches a farmer's house when the roads are dusty, it will slow down to one mile an hour, and the chauffeur will lay the dust in front of the house with a hand sprinkler worked over the dashboard.

Crime in Kulm was not a problem of major proportions, but occasional visits from professionals were made in years gone by, as now, as evidenced by the following story from the July 23 issue of a 1925 Messenger.

About 1 o'clock Saturday morning, July 15, 1925 H.E. Gansz, the cashier of the First State Bank of Kulm, and his wife, arrived home from a visit in Ellendale. Mr. Gansz, accompanied by his wife, drove his car into the garage at the rear of the bank when two men stepped out from behind the garage doors.

"The Yeggs," as the Kulm Messenger describes them, "then politely asked the Ganszes to face the wall. After severing the car's ignition wires, the bandits locked the Ganszes in the garage and told them to remain there. Mr. Gansz said they were treated politely at all times.

"The bank robbers proceeded to pry open the west window on the south side of the Bank, entered and began their attempts to blast the vault open. Using 13 charges of nitro-glycerin and still failing to open the vault, they finally gave up. There was 46 hundred dollars in the vault and none of it was serious damaged, but about five thousand dollars worth of damage was done to the vault and bank interior and furnishings.

"While the 'Yeggs' were blasting away at the vault, their accomplices, standing guard outside, bombarded the streets and business places with over 10 shots. As soon as the noise of the explosions was heard the street lamps were lit and lights went on throughout the town. The robbers immediately shot out the street lamps and poured found after round of lead into the hotel and other buildings with lights burning.

"Assistant cashier N.G. Isaak, who later served as an alderman in Kulm for 34 years, and Adolph Smith got into Isaak's automobile and drove around town spreading the alarm of the robbery. During the process Isaak was shot in the leg and taken to a doctor for treatment. J.A. Melicher, who was also spreading the alarm, fired three shotgun blasts at one robber but missed and then had to flee. Carl Mauch and Harry Wolf sneaked to the roof of the David Hettich store and fired three shots across the street into the bank but immediately drew return fire. Fortunately the sharp shooting thieves believed the pair was located in Mary Rott's Cream Station two doors south of Hettichs and blasted away at that building.

"Inside the bank, the safe crackers finally gave up and called their forces together to calmly leave town. Before doing so, however, they severed telephone and telegraph lines leading from town, leaving Kulm without any communications.

"At about this time in history other communities in the State were also being plagued by the post-harvest invasion of bank bandits. The adjutant General's Office was swamped with requests for army rifles to be supplied to the towns for self defense. The requests were denied.

"The month after the attempted robbery in Kulm the residents formed a vigilance committee and had two men guard the city every night.

"After some disagreement, the city board, at the urging of mayor Billigmeier, finally approved 24 hour light service so the town could be lighted at night."

Fredonia defeated Diesem 6 to 5 in the first game and Kulm defeated Fredonia 8 to 6 in the final encounter. Fires have always been a problem in small towns, and almost every town has had its major fire, along with many minor ones.

We have had several large fires over the years, but the biggest occurred on November 2, of 1905 when 16 business places were destroyed or damaged.

They were the bank and Charles Pruetz residence, Gackle and Company, John Grosz and Son Store, Snyder Drug, Byer Brothers Pool & Bowling, Millers Restaurant, Gordon's Barber Shop, Union Hotel, Johnson Bakery, Mippolt Hotel and Home, Peterson Meat Market, Johnson's Restaurant, Malin's Real Estate, and the Kulm Messenger. Most of the buildings were rebuilt in brick.

The fire was discovered at 6 p.m. in the interior of the second story of Gackle and Company Hardware, origin unknown. In two hours the west side of the street of Kulm's Business block was leveled. Had there been a wind the toll could have been much greater. This tremendous damage prompted the Kulm Messenger to begin campaigning for a fire protection program.

Residents of Kulm were more than slightly upset when passengers of an East bound train stopped off to watch the fire and looted the business places. Tar and feathers was recommended.

On August 20, 1925, the Kulm Messenger carried the story of another big blaze. Three days earlier at 3 p.m. a fire was discovered between the Bernhard Gehring Institution and Mrs. Bertha Koldun's Restaurant. The city had chemical fire engines at the time, but the fire was too far gone before it was noticed and little could be done. Some of the stock carried out of the buildings was not carried far enough away and was destroyed after all. The fire claimed Gehrings, Kolduns, and the Farmers Store, and damaged Gackle Brothers and the Bank. If the latter two had been lost it is likely everything southwest of there in the business district would have gone also.

A life was lost in a fire here on April 26, 1926. That again scarred Kulm's Business District.

The fire was believed to have started in Becker's Lunchroom and novelty Shop. Mr. Becker was killed trying to salvage family possessions. The fire also destroyed Swanke's Barber Shop and the Star Care, and damaged Straub's Butcher Shop. The Fredonia Fire Department assisted in fighting the blaze.

Three more business places went up in smoke on September 17, 1948, and this resulted in a new business block for the town.

About 4 a.m. that fateful day flames engulfed Peoples Store, Art's Grocery and the Hildebrand Locker Plant. This time the Edgeley Fire Department was on hand to battle the blaze.

[picture: ANGIE DICKINSON]

Angie Dickinson was born in Kulm-1931, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.H. Brown. Mr. Brown was the publisher of The Kulm Messenger.

The family left North Dakota in 1942 when Angie was 11 years old. Moving to Burbank, California.

In December of 1948, when Angie was senior at Bellarmine Jefferson High School in Burbank, she won the Sixth Annual Bill of Rights Contest in that community, and two years later her sister Janet did likewise. Being the daughter of a printer, Angie at first had visions of becoming a writer but gave this up after winning her first beauty contest.

After finishing college she worked as a secretary for a Burbank Airplane Parts Factory for 3-1/2 years.

In 1953 she entered the local Miss America Contest one day before the deadline and took second. In August of the same year she was one of five winners in a beauty contest sponsored by the National Broadcasting Company and appeared in several Tv variety shows. She got her first bit part in a Warner Brothers Movie in 1954 and gained television fame in the millionaire series in 1956. Her success then spiraled until she became one of the nation's top movie stars which she still is today.

What does Hollywood say about a star being born in North Dakota? The newspapers said, "Angie Dickinson was born in Kulm in a calm," implying that both are extreme rarities in this State.

Angie reportedly began using her famous legs at birth when she kicked the doctor in the eye.

She married her second husband, composer Burt Bacharach in May of 1965.

Do you remember how the thriving little metropolis of Kulm looked in 1892? It was the year the railroad was being built.

C.J. Zellmer owned a general merchandise store located where the Kulm State Bank is at present.

Looking south on the same block was John Grosz & Sons general merchandise store which handled groceries, clothing and shoes. His store was originally in Dickey and was moved to Kulm.

Next was George Gackle's 2 story building with living quarters upstairs, sold furniture and hardware.

Next was Michael Hieb's general merchandise store.

Next was Lange's general merchandise where Palms and Kreins are right now. It was in front of this store the first cement sidewalk was built, by Mr. Gray, which caused considerable discussion, the people being curious and skeptical, hesitant about accepting its durability, clinging to the old board sidewalk as being the better. J.M. Erbele had moved a building from Ashley and used it for his general merchandise store.

On the east side of main street, near the railroad track, was a tailor shop run by Mr. and Mrs. Mehrling.

Mr. Kuhn had a men's clothing store.

Next was Ernest Schneider's butcher shop and he also worked for J.B. Kessler who had a general merchandise store. He also owned a store in Edgeley.

Louis Guthmueller's store was on the corner. John Jenner, who had come from Tripp, S. Dak., worked for him and was harness maker with J.A. Melicher.

Across the street was Buechler's store.

Christ Hieb has a 5 and 10 cent store which was later sold to Linder & Anderson and was converted into a general merchandise store.

Jake Roedel was a mason and built several buildings, one of them being Dr. Brankle's office, the front being of natural stone.

John Reimen was one of the early photographers.

J.A.T. Bjornson had the Drug Store.

Smith one of the first butcher shops.

Jake and Inez Byers also had a drug store which later burned.

Mr. A. Miller was proprietor of the first hotel, a 2 story building.

Mrs. John Hillius ran a restaurant and John Hillius the Stage and Mail Line between Edgeley and Kulm, taking passengers and mail everyday.

The Baptist Church was on the corner where the City Hall is at present. It was bought by the Evangelical Congregation and moved to its present location.

The First Congregational Church was sold and moved to Wm. Messing which he remodeled into his home. A new church was built which was later torn down and later the present building was built.

The Congregation of the Reform Church bought the little 2 room school house and was later moved to the corner where the Luck home is at present.

The town would not be complete without the busy saloons serving the glasses of cold beer. One was owned by Christoph Rott. One could see the well dressed bartender, Hank Palm with his vest and a big chain hung across and his derby hat.

East of Gackle's elevator was St. Croix & Salzer Lumber Yard run by Peter Burfenning, owned by Sawyer & Arnold.

Kulm State Bank was one of the first banks with S. Pruetz president.

LaMoure County Bank was started by Olaf Haukins, and was the place where Christ Hieb learned his banking experience.

Emil Anderson was the first undertaker. At that time there was no state law compelling one to have an embalmer's license. Later the law was passed making it compulsory, so Emil received his education and license from Grand Forks, N. Dak.

There were livery barns where people could get their horses shod and keep their horses in the barns while buying their groceries. Many came from long distances and would spend the night in the stores, sitting around the stoves, and eating their lunches, and drinking cider bought from the storekeeper. Many brought their grain in sacks to be sold and money used for their groceries and clothing. Nick Crudens livery barn was on the east side. Fred and Dave Brost and Mike ran a Livery Stable. They had an upstairs to their building with living quarters. Sam Ruud had one of the first livery stables.

John Hiller bought Dave Krause's blacksmith and machine shop.

Dollar & Railson were behind Gackle's store. Railson's home where Albert Buerkle lives.

Victor Lane, originally from England, owned and operated the Dray Line and a hotel. They had 2 children, Harriet and Douglas.

Otto Isaak, cashier of the First State Bank, presently living in Fargo.

Martin Erbele, cashier of the First State Bank, Otto Groh ran the first light plant in 1911 in the old creamery.

They are Tillie Krieger, Billings, Mont., Leona Gumke, Kremlin, Mont., Cecelia Gebbart, Lehr, N.D., Otelia, Mrs. Otto Rutschke, Kulm, Emma Hauser, Kremlin, Mont., Ernest, who passed away in August 1966, Otto living in Arthur, N.D., and Reinhold, owner of the Kramlich Locker in Kulm.

Charles Lindor was in partnership with Christ Hieb and Emil Anderson in a hardware and grocery store, which was located on the corner where the Farmers Union building now stands. From Kulm, he moved to Duluth, Minn., where he passed away.

Ernest Schneider, brother of George, had a butcher shop located where the present Kulm Cafe now stands. The railroad was built west of Kulm in 1898, at that time. He was also a veterinarian. He was married to Christina Mogck.

Kulm native, the Reverend Arthur Patzer, received national recognition in 1956 and 1957 when his talks on television, Rock and Roll music, and juke box religion was heard throughout the world. Vice President Nixon personally congratulated him in 1957 for his stand on temperance. Pastor Patzer is still fighting for his cause on the east coast.

On August 22, 1957, Air Force Major David Simons landed 40 miles southeast of here from a high altitude balloon flight begun in Minnesota two days earlier.

Lawrence Welk got his start playing for wedding dances in this area and many of the folks remember dancing to his music. Some even recall helping him out financially when he started out. His first paid dance was in Ipswich, S.D., and he has not been without a contract since 1938. He frequently visits his home and family at Strasburg.

On November 22, 1956, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Erickson, formerly of Kulm, observed their 60th wedding anniversary in British Columbia, Canada. Their family consisted then of 10 children, 32 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren for a total of 56. In those 60 years there had not been one death or one divorce among any of the 56 members.

Kulm observed its 65th anniversary on June 24 and 25 of 1957 because the 50th anniversary occurred during the war and many oldtimers feared they would not be around to see the 75th anniversary. Seven thousand people poured into our little community. The speaker was Claude Ebling, Soo Line Agricultural Agent and Farm Philosopher.

On October 20, 1955, city engineer Paul Barnes of Valley City surveyed Kulm for street paving. The project was completed in 1956.

The first railroad car of corn was shipped east for sale by the Gackle Grain Company on January 10, 1924. It brought Dan Hildebrand 51 cents a bushel.

Incidentally, the box car shortage we hear so much about now was already a problem in Kulm in 1907. Being located in the corner of three counties, the Kulm farming county was a great wheat center and the elevators had trouble getting enough box cars to ship their grain out.

Kulm businessman and State Senator J.B. Sharpe was instrumental in organizing the senate in the state legislature.

Curb parking was begun in Kulm, August 22, 1925, because the Saturday night crowds were presenting a parking problem when everyone parked in the middle of the street.

The first school was started in 1893 and the first high school graduating class was in 1927 when two people graduated. On January 3, 1924, at 4 a.m. sparks from the chimney ignited the shingles on the school and it burned down in one and a half hours. Classes were held in the City Auditorium until a new school was completed later that same year.

A new elementary school was constructed in 1961 and the school plus, remodeling of the high school, cost 290 thousand dollars.

The American Legion provided a lighted athletic field in July of 1958, making Kulm one of the smallest towns in the state with a lighted field. In the first contest on the field, Kulm's baseball team defeated Edgeley 3 to 1.

Another great honor came to Kulm when Coach Glen Robinson's basketball team won the state tournament in March of 1958. The present superintendent of schools, Owen Wallace, was the assistant coach. The team members were: Phil Mueller and Gilbert Schott as co-captains, Gerry Herman, Ron Sandau, Tom Herman, Delano Herrmann, Arnie Heck, Duane Theilen, Bobby Hieb, and Adolph Puhlman. Coach Robinson served his team breakfast in bed for accomplishing the feat.

In the first game, Kulm downed Underwood 50-49 and committed only seven fouls. There was a roaring welcome for the boys when they returned home that Sunday morning.

Kulm had made a trip to the state, it's first, the previous year, but did not fare very well that time.

Basketball was begun here in 1908 and the first team consisted of Robert Lange, Christ Dobler, Eddie Guthmueller, John Stolt and Russel Burfenning.

The big blizzard in March of last year was by no means the worst Kulm has ever seen. In January of 1907, the folks were getting two blizzards a week accompanied by extreme cold weather. This lasted for four weeks. The fuel shortage was becoming critical but trains could not travel often enough to alleviate the situation. One passenger train was snowed in near Fredonia for six days. No loss of life was reported, however.

The Kulm Health Center was formed in 1951 but was without the services of a doctor for about a year once. The Governor and Congressmen were called upon for help until Dr. Richard Steidl came in July of 1954.

Perhaps the best known doctor here was F.W. Fergusson who served the community from 1921 until he retired in 1950 and moved to Lodi, California. He died there in September of 1953 at the age of 61. Twenty-five hundred people were present to honor him on Dr. Fergusson Day here July 28, 1946, marking his 25th anniversary here.

Former Mayor W.M. Gackle was the first boy born here and former postmaster Oscar Lange was the second boy born in Kulm.

BIRTHS-

Following is a list of births from back issues of The Kulm Messenger as nearly as available copies will permit. Papers were scanned very carefully week by week from the first copies available at the historical society in Bismarck, and in the office locally, in an effort to make this a reasonably complete reference book for the town. In most cases, early papers didn't give the infant's name, but perhaps families can make educated guesses from dates and parents names. [Arranged in date sequence where not sequential]

FAMILY HISTORY SECTION -

Families and individuals who submitted histories and pictures of their family will find them printed in this section. It was impossible to put them in alphabetical order because they had to be processed and printed as received, and to fit space requirements. You will find many family histories that were not in the old jubilee book, and histories of the younger and branches of families that have stayed in Kulm. No effort was made to include information carried in the 1957 jubilee book, since this is a supplement to the previous book. [Family histories have been rearranged so that they will be in alphabetical order]

[picture] August Hartman, born in Wittenburg, Germany, on August 4, 1876, immigrated to the United States with his mother, brothers, and sister. His father had passed away in 1883.

The boys were close to the age of compulsory military obligation in Germany which was the major factor in deciding to leave the home land.

The family immigrated to Kansas and settled near Wakeenie in 1889.

A few years later, Joe, August's oldest brother, homesteaded in Dakota territory near his sister Polly (Mrs. Joe Hollan). After hearing of the land that was still available for homesteading in Dakota Territory, the rest of the family came in an immigrant car to the vicinity south of what is now Kulm.

For several years, August worked as a farm laborer near Ellendale, where he also went to a country school for a few months during the winter. In his early twenties, he purchased half interest in the Taylor-Hartman wagon shop. He held his partnership until he married.

He was united in marriage to Katie Wendland on December 29, 1904, at the Joe Hollan home. Katie was born on February 13, 1879, at Neu-Elft, South Russia. At the age of 14, she came to America with her mother, step-father, brothers and sister. They settled near Wirch, N. Dak. Katie worked for her cousin, John Wirch, for 3 years at $65.00 a year, then for Tom Shimmens for several years. It was during that time that she joined them on a scouting trip to the Black Hills with 2 covered wagons. In addition to helping with the care of the family, she drove one of the wagon teams.

The following summer, she joined them on a trip to the Yellowstone National Park. They took along the necessary food supplies, which included a cow. There were various other jobs she had in the Kulm and Ellendale area.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartman farmed in the Kulm and Wirch vicinities for several years. They moved to Ashley in 1909, where he farmed and did custom threshing with a steam rig. His wife ran the cook car which followed. She prepared meals for anywhere from 16 to 20 men. In 1915, they moved back to the Kulm area and settled on the Joe Hartman Homestead where he continued farming and threshing. In 1925, they purchased the Fred Sherbenski 640 acre farm 2 miles south. They lived here until they retired and moved to Ellendale in 1935.

Both August and Katie took an active part in community affairs. They were members of the Hoffnungsfeld Church. He was township supervisor and township treasurer for many years; was director of the Farmers Co-operative elevator in Kulm; was a director of the Farmers Store in Kulm (located where the present Drug Store and Bowling Alley are); they were charter members of the German Northwest Farmers Union Local and took an active part in the Non- Partisan League.

Because of their generous hospitality, they boarded the school teachers for many years. Their home was the scene of many impromptu social gatherings. After they moved to Ellendale, they joined the EUB Church and she was an active member of their ladies aid.

This union was blessed with 8 children: Lee of Kulm, N. Dak.; Ernest, Ellendale, N. Dak. (deceased-1962); Gottlieb, Kulm, N. Dak.; Annie, Mrs. Howard Haven, Bremerton, Wash.; Joe, Vallejo, Calif. (deceased-1954); and Alma, Mrs. Jack Wells, Salem, Ore.; two children died in infancy. There are 14 grand children.

Mr. Hartman passed away in 1946 and Mrs. Hartman in 1966.

086. HARTMAN, GOTTLIEB & DELORES (Fregien)

[picture] Gottlieb Hartman, son of August and Katie (nee Wendland) Hartman, was born March 26, 1911 in Ashley, North Dakota. At the age of 4, the family moved to the Joe Hartman farm 5 miles south of Kulm.

In 1925, the family again moved to two miles south on the Fred Sherbenski farm in Northwest Township in Dickey County, which his parents bought (where he still lives); after his parents retired and moved to Ellendale in 1935. He and his brother Lee, rented and operated the farm.

In 1938, Gottlieb decided to change partnership and on September 25th married Delores Irene, daughter of John and Hermina (nee Netz) Fregien of Fredonia, North Dakota. The ceremony took place in the Gnadenfeld church southwest of Kulm.

Because the farm was not large enough for two families, Lee and his family moved back to Uncle Joe Hartman's farm; close enough to continue a help-out partnership.

This union was blessed with three children: Gerald and Karen, both graduates of North Dakota State University with B.A. degrees, and Larry attending Dakota Business College at Fargo, N. Dak.

The new partnership was not too prosperous; their total gross income the first year was $973.00. With a healthy and enthusiastic spirit, being able to charge the groceries and gas, using the cream checks for miscellaneous expense, and the crop much better, they doubled their income the following year. With the enthusiasm they had of better crops and prices, they bought the 640 acre home farm in 1941 at $8.15 an acre, and have since then purchased additional land, making this one of the larger diversified grain and livestock units in the area- 300 head of Hereford cattle and 60 sheep.

Knowing that farmers had to be interested in their production beyond their farm gate, Gottlieb and Delores became active in Farmers Union, farm co-operatives, politics, etc., and have since been elected and served on local and regional boards.

At the present time, Gottlieb is president of the Farmers Co-operative Elevator Company in Kulm and has served as vice president and secretary for the past 23 years; is director of the Dickey County Farmers Union since 1944 and president for the past 14 years; is State Director of the North Dakota Farmers Union since 1961; is director of the Farmers Union Marketing Association of South St. Paul, Minn. since 1963; is a member of the Dickey County executive board of the Democrat-Non-Partisan League Party since 1952; is a member of the Whitestone Battlefield Park Board since 1952. Previously, he was township treasurer for 18 years; was on the credit committee of the Kulm Credit Union for 10 years, and was one of the organizers of the Dickey County Crop Improvement Association. Having leadership qualities, he has been appointed and served on various committees throughout the years.

Delores, sharing her husband's views and interests in meetings, also had her own interests and became active in various other organizations. She is a charter member of the Northwest Thrifty Homemakers Club, having held various offices and is presently vice-president; she was elected Dickey County Homemakers council president in 1948 and 1949; she is secretary of the German Northwest Farmers Union Local; is president of the 28th District Democrat- Non-Partisan League, a Women's Organization; is Dickey County International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) chairman; is Dickey County Homemakers Safety chairman; is a member of the Dorcas Society of their church; and is a past president of the Kulm PTA.

In 1963, Delores was one of 10 farm people of the United States chosen to go to India for 10 weeks on a "Peace Mission" under Farmers and World Affairs.

This was a very interesting and challenging experience, and most rewarding. 10 people from India showed their gratitude by visiting at the Hartman home for several days in 1964, while touring in the United States.

On Delores' return trip, they spent several days at the Holy Land, visiting Jesus' birth place, Calvary, Tomb, etc. She was very impressed. Seeing the places where Biblical events occurred brought a new understanding and appreciation of studying the Bible. They also visited at Cairo, Egypt; Rome, Italy; London, England; and the United Nations in New York City.

Gottlieb and Delores are interested in people and they have welcomed visitors from 14 different countries. Their hospitality is most generous, having increased the number to 43 people. Their "international family" includes one man from Chile; one from Ceylon; 2 IFYE students from India, who all spent one month each on their farm, and 2 men from England, who each spent 9 months working with them. Their son, Gerald had spent 9 months in England under the same Farmers Union program in 1963.

They have had hired help throughout the years, many of whom became near members of the family.

Floyd Mittelstedt, a lad of 14 years old, came to work for them for a few days in 1952, and stayed with them for 7 years while they helped him through high school and college.

With their Farmers Union, co-operative, political and other activities, they have attended many regional and national conventions, and have made many lasting friends throughout the States and world.

In the midst of many meetings, conventions and a full social calendar, their children honored them by celebrating their Silver Wedding Anniversary in 1963.

Gottlieb and Delores are life-long members of the Congregational Church.

[picture] Lee Hartman was born, December 26, 1906, on the Joe Hartman Homestead (5 miles south and 1 mile east of Kulm, N. Dak.). In 1908, his parents moved to their Homestead near that of the Wirch's 16 miles south and 2 miles west of Kulm. After living there for 1 year, the family again pulled up their stakes and moved to Ashley, N. Dak. to become "city dwellers". While they lived in Ashley, the elder Mr. Hartman farmed and worked as a custom-thresher. 1915 was another year to move. This time the family moved back to the Joe Hartman Homestead and remained there for 10 years before making the last move as a family to the Fred Sherbenski farm 2 miles south. His parents purchased this farm shortly before the move.

Periodically, during the winters, Lee would work for $10.00 a month for Robert Fey, Fred Staeck, and Dan Harter. Money came easy in those days! In 1926, Christ Roth and Lee satisfied their pioneer spirit by venturing forth in 30 below weather in a 1924 Model-T-Ford with no heater (it had good side curtains) to Bullhead, S. Dak. A trip of about 140 miles that took around 10 hours. It got a bit chilly at times so Lee took turns running beside the car to keep his feet warm. In Bullhead, Lee worked for Clude Hatch at $50.00 a month. The sleeping quarters were furnished by the management, a tent with 2 mattresses and a couple of blankets. The second year, Lee was promoted to combine operator and earned $7.00 a day.

At the beginning of the depression, many farms were mortgaged and up for sale. The incentive to farm was not squelched and in 1932, Lee took over another man's mortgage on the livestock and machinery for $1040.00 at 8% interest. His chattels included 17 cows and calves, 4 work horses, 27 sheep, plow, disc, drill, binder, 2 wagons, and anything else that he owned. He rented a farm from Charles Trumbell (11 miles south and 2 miles east of Kulm) and also took on 140 of his father's sheep on shares. One-fourth of all increase was paid to the landlord as rent, one-half of the sheep increase was paid to his father, and he kept the balance.

The feed and seed that he needed was purchased from G.R. Montaney at the following rates: Barley-52 lbs. per bu., and Oats-40 lbs. per bu., both at 10 cents per bu. 1933 was a dry year, but the farmers managed to get enough hay and feed for their livestock. In 1934 (the Dirty 30's), there was no hay or feed available. It was extremely dry and there was no market for livestock except for the government program which paid $20.00 per head for those over 2 years, $15.00 for those under 2 years, and $8.00 for calves. Edwin Schulz and Lee were appointed to ear tag all of the cattle that were to be sold to the government. They received 10 cents a head and worked from 4 a.m. until mid-morning and again from 6 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. The rest of the day was spent working on the country highway, blading with 3 horses at $1.00 per hour.

Because of the severe drought, Lee and 2 of his brothers (Gottlieb and Ernest) went in search of feed and hay in the fall of 1934. They were disappointed in the Wyndmere vicinity, but successful in their search near Valley City at the John Pfaff farm. The hay was mostly pigeon grass and stubble. They made 90 tons of hay that fall and rented a vacant farm. In October, they moved about 60 head of cows and horses from Kulm to southwest of Valley City with a saddle horse and Lee's 1929 Chevy 2-door. It took about 3 days to make the drive. They remained there over the winter and moved the cattle home in the spring (a 5 day trip).

1935 was a good year for hay and feed, but there was no wheat because of rust. 1936 was still very dry but there was some carry over hay from the previous year. He kept 12 milk cows and 5 stock cows. On April 18, 1936, Lee married Katherine Pfaff (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pfaff). In 1938, Lee moved his family to the Joe Hartman Homestead and purchased it in 1946 from the Joe Hartman Estate. He has remained there ever since.

To this union 3 girls were born. Shirley Ann, who received her RN from Mercy School of Nursing in Valley City, her BS from UND in Grand Forks, and her MSN from the University of Colorado in Boulder, is presently a Captain in the Nurse Corps of the United States Air Force and is stationed at Homestead, Florida. During part of the time, he was regimental Bugler. He was discharged from the army on June 14, 1919, at Camp Dodge, Iowa.

Due to helping his father on the farm, Lee was unable to continue his education at the time. However, with the musical background of his father, grandfather and uncle, Lee, too, became a lover of music. With untiring efforts, his father and his Uncle Ed Hollan instructed him in trumpet lessons. Much of his leisure time was devoted to studying music and reading. Having a strong determination for education, he started high school in 1936 at the Ellendale Normal and Industrial School and graduated in 1939 with some additional hours in instrumental music and Industrial Arts. On July 19, 1939, Mr. Hollan was united in marriage with Alice Fregien, daughter of John and Hermina Fregien (nee Netz). Mr. and Mrs. Hollan have always been interested in politics and government, but never harbored political ambition on a county level. They have devoted much time over the years in helping to maintain a Democratic Organization in the county. He has been elected Democratic Precinct Committeeman for many years. Lee and Alice farmed with Lee's father for one year and then, in the fall of 1940, they purchased the 160 acre farm on which they now live, located four miles south and three miles west of Kulm., which formerly was owned by Rynold Flegel.

155. LAND, ANTON & ANNA (Sodstad)

[picture] Almost everyone living in the present age of space and rockets can also tell about ancestors that were born on another continent in the 1800's. It would be no different with Anton and Anna Land, who passed away in recent years.

Anton Land was born at Drammen, Norway in 1879. When he was only eight years old, he went to live with an uncle who raised him to young manhood. The dream and adventure of traveling to America must have come forcefully to his heart and mind as it did to many others during that time. In 1908, he and a part of others came to America, which at that time was fast becoming populated. Many had homesteaded some years before this. Sometime in the early 1900's, Anton purchased some land ten miles northwest of Kulm, which to this day remains the "home" place. A son, Helge, resides there now.

In 1888, in Christiana or Oslo, Norway, a fair baby girl named Anna was born to a young couple whose last name was Sodstad. This girl grew to young womanhood and providence led her to America in 1913. She worked around the Kulm vicinity for some time.

Even in those days of limited mobility, young people did meet upon occasion; perhaps with more excitement than in this day and age. These meetings between Anton and Anna developed overtones of romance and, in 1915, they were united in marriage at Aberdeen, South Dakota. Upon returning home, they came to Elling Kjos' (who lived north of Kulm), to a nicely planned wedding supper.

Anna had a sister, who was married to Walter Garside, and they lived south of Kulm on the Ted Wirch farm. On rare occasions, Anna took the horse and buggy, with the baby, and drove out there to visit. She stayed overnight and returned home the following day.

Three sons were born to Anton and Anna. Their names are: Helge, Alvin and Rangvald. They all live north of Kulm. The grandchildren include Arlyn, Gayle, Charlotte, Sharon and Iris, children of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Land; also Thomas, Dean, Janine and Patti, children of Mr. and Mrs. Randy Land.

[picture] Rudolph Lemke was born on April 14, 1898, 16 miles south of Kulm, N.D. He is the son of Adam and Christine (nee Litke) Lemke.

This is where he grew to manhood. As soon as he was of age, and farming was to be his line, he thought there should be a better way than to depend on horse power. That is when he decided to buy himself a Fordson tractor, which seemed some improvement over plowing with the old plugs. But after a few years even that was too slow going. He was the first tractor farmer in the community. In 1927, he bought a complete Case rig, consisting of tractor, plow and a threshing machine. With that threshing rig, he would do custom threshing for two months and more. In severe weather, cold and at times even snow. Sometimes the crew had to sleep in the hay stack or next to the chicken roosts with the roosters crowing every few hours. There was no alarm clock needed. But the crew survived.

On June 9, 1929, he married Miss Anna Hehr of Fredonia, N.D. She was born October 14, 1903, daughter of George and Dorothea (nee Bietz) Hehr. To this union was born one daughter, Audrey Ann, now Mrs. Harold Fregien of Kulm.

They built a new farm a half mile south of his parent's place. Things were pretty rough. There was a terrific drought in progress which lasted for about seven years. So the new farm progressed very slowly. Finding a good supply of water was the big problem. Many times, water was carried a half mile uphill with a three gallon pail. There was a natural spring there. The cattle had to be taken there for watering in the winter time.

August 9, 1945, the house was struck by lightning, during a flash thunderstorm, and burned to the ground. Some of the contents were saved. A little granary was their headquarters until winter threatened. They then moved into the vacant house on Lemke folks place. But all the stock was left on the home place and that meant walking back and forth all winter to do the chores and milking the cows.

Misfortune stuck again on September 9, when three of the best milk cows died from eating sweet corn, and the remaining cow had to be sold later. So only stock cows were kept.

Excavating for the basement started in October, 1945. Material for a dwelling was hard to get, being there was a war going on. A permit had to be obtained and, thru the Red Cross, building material for emergency use was made available for the right price of course. So, with the help of good friends and neighbors, the house came into being. After the basement was done and the frame was enclosed, they moved in. After 13 months, it was finally finished.

Diversified farming was their line until 1957, when they sold the live stock and now do only grain farming.

They also have a scenic garden which is there to enjoy for anyone wishing to do so.

He was born of Irish parents, a native of Sparta. He had worked in a gold mine. He was a little mite of a man, a scant five foot four but woe to anyone who might cross his path or step on his toes. They wouldn't do it again. He enjoyed parties and dances and his ever ready Irish wit won him a host of friends.

That winter he worked for Joe Hollan, bringing with him a team of horses. Later that winter, he bought another horse from Simon Hille, and one from Joe Hollan. By early year standards, that was power enough to start farming.

That spring he moved in with the August Hartmans, he and August sharing machinery, work and expenses. He rented some land from Joe Hollan and some from August Hartman. After seeding was done, the boys bought an old Case steam engine and a Minneapolis separator from the Lehr community. Between then and threshing time, the boys overhauled and carefully checked over the two threshing rigs so, when threshing was ready, August took one outfit and Louie the other. Each thresher had a long run, up to snow fall. After the threshing was over, Louie took up a homestead a mile or two north of the Whitestone Battlefield, and after living on it the required length of time, proved up as the saying went, but he threshed each fall, and after proving his right to the homestead, he bought the Christ Sept farm where widow Emma Klettke and her sons live. However, after a year or two, he rented out this farm and moved to his homestead again. In the meantime, he married and established a permanent home there. When his children became of school age, having no school nearby, he moved to Kulm where he opened up a small garage and machine shop, as he was a master mechanic. After several years, he moved to Edgeley, into larger quarters, and continued in that line of work until his passing during the forties sometime.

His son George continued in the business for a number of years before leaving Edgeley and moving to Carrington.

Louis loved life. He didn't amass a fortune, but he left behind a host of friends and fond memories which, in the end, means more than all the King's gold.

Here they built up a temporary camp about one mile south of [the] Joe Hartman farm, where Lee Hartman now lives. In those years, farming was all done with horses, so the boys started breaking up prairie with two breaking fallows. They bought the seed flax from Joe Hollan. They raised a good crop of flax that year and moved back again, north of Kulm, for winter quarters.

They returned in the spring and continued to break up the prairie. That fall they built up about 3 1/4 miles west of their camp.

They built a comfortable two room house and a barn for their horses, put down a well and established permanent residence on the east side of the road, which is now Highway 56.

The boys were musicians and played for practically all of the country dances around the Kulm community, Jack playing the violin and Dan the mandolin. Jack was a very good violinist and throughout those years played with various orchestras in Kulm. He also played on the Kulm baseball team, and took part in that never to be forgotten game between Kulm and Wishek, when Kulm won the $1000.00 bet by a score of 4 to 2.

In the fall of 1909, the boys sold their farm to Fred Hildebrand Sr. After the threshing that fall, Jack and Dan decided to pay a visit to Iowa for the most part of the winter. Jack's brother Pat, taking care of the horses and keeping house. That spring 1910, the boys held an auction sale and sold their horses, machinery and also household.

A new tract of land was being opened up in Alberta, Canada, so they decided to look it over, the result being they homesteaded near Casper and started over again in true pioneer fashion. Jack continued playing for dances and played on the fast Casper baseball team.

After a few years, Dan Collins sold his interest and returned to the States, locating in Bothell, Wash., a suburb of Seattle.

He was united in marriage to Christina Schilling. Mrs. Woehl was born in Borodino, South Russia on May 15, 1905. She was six years old when she came with her parents to America on March 30, 1911. Mr. and Mrs. Woehl moved to a farm 15 miles southwest of Kulm, a farm they bought from Mr. and Mrs. John Schweigert in 1926.

For many years, Gust was in the threshing and farming business. For a couple of years, we had good crops, but prices were real poor. For a bushel of wheat, we got 25 cents, barley 14 cents, eggs 10 cents, and cream was real cheap. They experienced some very bad years of severe drought, when dust clouds rolled across the prairie, like a bad snow storm, leaving huge dust drifts along fences and roads.

For fuel and cooking, we picked dried manure chips. It was so dry, nothing grew but thistles, which we cut for hay to keep our livestock alive. Our cattle had to be sold to the government. Cows brought $20 and calves 4 to 6 dollars.

In the forties, crops became better, but due to the war, most everything was rationed. We had to have stamps to buy sugar, coffee, meat and gasoline. In 1943, we got a permit to build a barn, obtaining the lumber from local and neighboring towns.

Mr. and Mrs. Woehl started farming in 1929, when they built a two room house and moved a small barn from the Phillip Woehl farm onto this quarter, which Henry had purchased from his dad to make a home on their own. Mr. Woehl started farming with three pair of horses and a very small line of machinery. They endured many hardships during the depression years, when there were no crops to be harvested and not enough moisture for even the grass to grow to be cut for hay, so they put up thistles to feed the livestock. For approximately eight years, they purchased seed and sowed it and reaped very little when harvest time came, which meant that it took a lot of courage and faith to keep going. One year, Mr. Woehl recalls when they had a fair crop standing, but, before they got in with the header, the grasshoppers got in and made a clean sweep of the crop.

As the years went on, and things began to look more prosperous, the couple purchased more land and began to operate with larger and more modern machinery. The children grew up and left home. Mr. and Mrs. Woehl farmed alone for three years, but this was too much for them. They sold their farm to their youngest son, Raymond, in 1962 and moved into their new home in Kulm in March of 1963. Mr. Woehl is now semi-retired. As his ambition and interest in agriculture is still too great to give up entirely, so he still does a little farming.

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit to Robert Kurtz Legion Post No. 57, organized on June 18, 1932, has functioned and participated in the aims and accomplishments of the American Legion the past thirty-five years.

Mrs. Erick Burk and Mrs. Justina Bohnet are the only two charter members still belonging to the unit. Mrs. Rynold Kurtz and Mrs. C.W. Ware passed away in 1957. Mrs. Rebecca Schmidt, Lodi, Calif., and Mrs. William (Violet) Schwab, Lydon Station, Wisc., are out of state members.

Seven senior and eleven junior members have joined the unit in the past ten years. Carol Hilscher, a junior of more than ten years, was the unit's first tiny tot and joined when just an infant. The membership, at present, is thirty- six. The unit is rated superior through department and national qualifications.

We feel honored that Mrs. Alvin Moltzen, nee Viola Fregien, a former Kulmite, has served in various State department offices including department president. At present, she is National vice president of the Northwest Division, which comprises seven States.

The unit's present officers are: president, Mrs. Richard Stadler; vice president, Mrs. James Herman; secretary, Miss Maggie Rossman; treasurer, Mrs. Herbert Hilscher; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Richard Herman; historian, Mrs. Mollie Kosanke; and chaplain, Mrs. John Borth.

Our Gold Star mothers are Mrs. Marie Kurtz (deceased), World War I, and Mrs. Anna Kjos and Mrs. Lydia Orth, World War II.

KULM CITY BAND 1925-1967

The Kulm City Band was organized late in 1925 and, down thru the years, has never disbanded or hung up. There are still four of the charter members serving in the band.

The directors are: Hugo Ogren, Oscar Lange and Bill Wolf. There are two other members of long standing: C.W. Ward of Edgeley, who joined in 1929 and Lee Holland in 1930. During the band's hey day, it has played from Mandan to Fargo, and practically all of the smaller towns within driving distance of Kulm. On July 4th of 1949, North Dakota U.S. Senators William Langer and Milton R. Young honored the band by designating it the North Dakota U.S. Senators' Band. The late A.R. Kempf was the band's first Drum Major, followed by the late L.J. Brown, father of the actress, Angie Dickinson. After that, majorettes took over. Sylvia Hollan, the director's daughter was the band's first majorette, followed by Marlyn Mueller, Ramona Young, Beatrice Kramlich, Jo Englebretzen, Ardella Schlauch, Janice Gackle and the present majorette and Dairy Princess, Nancy Forsman. Ed Hollan is Director, Aft Hollan Assistant Director, and William Gackle President.

WHITESTONE BATTLEFIELD STATE PART

Nestled in the grassy hills of western Dickey County lies the Whitestone Battlefield Historic Park. Here, on September 3, 1863, was fought the battle of Whitestone Hill, the last stand of the Sioux, east of the Missouri River.

The U.S. Cavalry troops engaged were the 6th Iowa Cavalry and the 2nd Nebraska Cavalry under Colonels Furnas and Wilson, the entire command under Major General Alfred Sully.

Beginning in August of 1862, Santees attacked the white settlements in southern Minnesota, the attack known as the New Ulm Massacre. Some forty or fifty of the warriors were captured and executed. The rest fled northwest to Dakota Territory to the Sioux, who reluctantly gave them protection.

General Sibley, in the spring of 1863, was sent towards Devils Lake with a brigade of cavalry and General Sully, from Sioux City, Iowa, with another brigade of cavalry was to march toward where Bismarck is now located, the intention of catching the warriors in a huge pinchers movement, crushing them in one blow. Their plans miscarried as Sully's supply boats were delayed by low water in the Missouri River. General Sibley fought the Indians in three running fights between Devils Lake and Bismarck and a fourth battle south of Bismarck at Apple Creek, where the Indians crossed the Missouri River. Here Sibley rested his troops, waiting for Sully one week. As his supplies were running low, he then marched his troops back to Minnesota, after which the Indians promptly re-crossed the Missouri and wended their way about a hundred or more miles southeast to Whitestone Hill for their annual buffalo hunt. Though the main village and assembly point was Whitestone Hill, the Indians had several places, in what is now Dickey County, where the main "kill" was held. The meat and hides were brought to Whitestone where the meat was cured and the hides tanned. Less than a third of the Indians in the hunting party were guilty of the Minnesota Massacre in 1862.

Late in August, Gen. Sully, with his Iowa and Nebraska Cavalry, reached the site of the last battle Sibley fought and learned from a deserted old Indian what had happened. Some historians tell that this old Indian was left behind to die, but the medics took him, dressed his wounds and fed him, and so, to show his gratitude, the Indian turned scout for Sully.

Sully then determined to take a quick swing to the southeast in search of the Indians and then make a rapid march to his base camp north of Pierre. After a couple days of marching and scouting, Sully reached Long Lake, where the village of Moffit now stands. Here he spent several days sending out scouting parties, but finding nothing. He marched the following day to Red Lake, just outside of the village of Burnstad. On the following day, Sully marched his 6th Iowa and 2nd Nebraska cavalry units to the southeast, about three miles apart, with a battalion of the 6th cavalry under Major House, as a scouting party, to the east of the group. Sully's guide, LaFramboise found the Indians in camp in ravines near Whitestone Hill. A scout was send back to Sully at all possible haste. It was mid-afternoon and Sully had called a halt at a good camping site where the soldiers were resting after their long march and relaxing after an afternoon meal. The horses had been turned out to graze. On the news of the scouting party finding the Indians, at once the bugle sounded "Boots and Saddles", the horses were taken up and in a short time the troops were on the gallop toward the Indian village, some nine or more miles to the northeast. Major House had held the Indians at bay until the entire command came.

Historians differ on the details of the battle, but, according to Sully's report, the Indians were hemmed in a ravine with Major House on the north and Colonel Furnas on the south, with General Sulley and Light Artillery ready on the west. The battle started about sunset and was fierce for an hour or more.

Chief Two Bears (1797-1871) headed the Yanktonia Tribe. In leading a charge, Chief Big Head was killed and is buried near the monument.

It is believed that some of the soldiers were killed with their own bullets in the cross-fire.

The next two days were spent in burying the dead, caring for the wounded and gathering up the 100 or more Indian babies and other prisoners. One report was that an Indian baby was found trying to nurse on its dead mother.

Space forbids more records and details of this battle. However, after more than a century of retrospection, we can have little reason to blame the Indians for fighting to save their homes and hunting grounds. In the opinion of most historians today, the Battle of Whitestone Hill was all a mistake and injustice to the Indians. Today, on the high hill stands a monument of a cavalry soldier sounding Taps for his fallen comrades. This monument was erected in 1909. During the mid- thirties, the rustic museum was built, the flag displayed, a well dug. In the following years, many improvements have been made.

In the early forties, with the passing of older board members, new board members were selected, who lived more locally to Whitestone.

Interest in the place grew. Landscaping was done, a concession stand built, a dock for the boats and swimmers was put in. The one room schools, passing out, gave much of their playground equipment to the place. Soft ball, volley ball, horseshoe, etc. make up sports enjoyed by old and young. About 1960, the ladies of the Northwest Thrifty Homemakers Club took over the concession stand and operated it Sunday afternoons and all holidays.

It was then that Whitestone began to roll, and attendance grew. Each season saw an increase in registration. There has been an average of 3,500 registrations each season from May 15th to October 15th, representing over 30 States annually and several foreign registrations.

In July of 1963, the Whitestone Centennial celebration was held. A two day celebration in which an estimated 10,000 people were present on Saturday and over 20,000 on Sunday.

Indian dancers from Fort Totten were the chief attraction and were given the honor spot in the parade as well as first prize.

A rodeo was staged Saturday evening and on Sunday afternoon by the Maud Evans Riding Club of Forbes.

Three different bands were present each day in the parade, the Kulm City Band played both days.

A company of National Guard Engineers from Edgeley have started a project within the grounds. A sand beach has been put in for bathers near the new bath house. The old burrow pit has been filled in and leveled out, and the roads within the park are to be improved this spring and summer.

The following men comprise the Whitestone Battlefield Board: Gottlieb Hartman, Henry Miller, Gottlieb Steinwand, Frank Rhoe, Don Glynn, Len Popp, and Ed Hollan is chairman. Otto Wendland is caretaker.

More information on the Swede Township Band has been compiled from memories of participants, mostly Hugo Ogren, who is still active in the Kulm Band. The Swede band was organized in 1906.

Their first performance was the 4th of July, 1906 celebration at the Gust Dahlberg farm 8 miles north of Kulm. They performed in Fredonia at the 4th of July, 1907. On July 4, 1908, they played at the celebration in Kulm and later played for the old settlers picnic at the Joe Hollan farm. In 1908, October 22, they played for the Democrat Rally in Kulm, stayed overnight and the next day, October 23, played for the Republican Rally.

In June, 1908, they played for the LaMoure County school picnic at the Steels Grove five miles west of Edgeley. Jones, of Rock, N.D., was the speaker. On February 22, 1909, they serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tjernlund on their wedding day. They played for two Woodman's celebrations at Jud. One in 1908 and the other, July 4, 1910.

In 1911, they serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Elling Kjos on the evening of their wedding. We had to use torches for light and Mrs. Kjos said it was the most beautiful sight she had ever seen. They also played for a picnic at Leander Bjur's Grove. Their last performance was at a picnic at Ole Olsons in 1915.

Kulm Assembly congregation has continued to grow and, in October of 1958, ground was broken for a new church on lots purchased from Mrs. Maggie Siewert. Much of the labor on the new church was donated by the people of the local congregation and the building was completed and ready for occupancy by the 15th of October, 1959. A crowd of close to 600 people were on hand for the dedication services which were held on the 22nd of November, 1959. Rev. K.E. Olson, District Superintendent of the North Dakota District of the Assemblies of God officiated at the dedicatory services.

The facilities of the new church building, a 44 x 90 structure, are being used to their fullest capacity.

Rev. Lloyd C. Jorgenson was pastor of the congregation while they were in their building program. He resigned as pastor in October of 1960, after 14 years of faithful service. Following his resignation, Rev. Marlin Kallevig served the church until November of 1965. The present pastor, Rev. LeRoy Johnson, came in May of 1966.

Evangelism is kept as the heart of the local congregation. A strong emphasis is given to missions each month. Several missionaries on the foreign field are being helped in their support. Support is also being received for home mission projects, as well as the radio ministry of "Revivaltime."

The following departments are active in the work of the church: The Choir, Sunday School, Women's Missionary Council, Men's Fellowship, Christ Ambassadors, Missionettes, and the Royal Rangers.

The Choir. The choir, composed of 22 members, has added much to the spiritual worship of the church. They minister in both the morning and evening services each Sunday. They have presented several sacred concerts in the church as well as in other churches in the area. The choir is under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Anderson. Mrs. LeRoy Johnson serves as pianist.

Women's Missionary Council. The Women's Missionary Council, in the local Assembly, was organized by Miss Evelyn Westland and Miss Edith Storlie. Through the years, this group has been actively engaged in helping both the foreign and home missionary. The prayers of this group, as well as the contributions of money, clothing, household items, etc., have meant much to the missionaries.

The W.M.C.s are divided into three groups. Each group meets separately once each month for prayer and to work on various missionary projects. The last Thursday of each month, they meet together for a devotional service and prayer.

Men's Fellowship. The Men's Fellowship meets once a month for their regular services. This group, as well as contributing and having a concern for missions, has completed several projects in the church which has added to its beauty and usefulness. Work days are held periodically.

Christ Ambassadors. The Christ Ambassadors is the youth organization of the church. They meet each Thursday night for their scheduled services. Missions are stressed through their "Speed-the-Light" program. This program provides equipment for missionaries. An offering is received each month for this purpose.

"Just thinking back from 1957 to 1967." Credo Erickson continued here as pastor until August, 1959. The Lord blessed their ministry during their stay here. In November, 1959, Jim Hubbard became our pastor. Their love and concern in all branches of the work was greatly appreciated. During their ministry here, our church was moved into Kulm. In February, 1965, Rev. G. Holmes came here as pastor and continues faithfully in the work. The Holmes are living in the parsonage that was purchased last April. The parsonage out in the country was sold to the Gust Ericksons.

Just recently we had a library built in the church.

Three of our long time members that are still active in the work are Mrs. Elna Anderson, Mrs. Christine Bowman, and Mrs. Signar Lundgren. Mrs. Alma Lindgren, also a longtime member, is living in Yakima, Washington.

Our executive committee, at the present, includes: President, Mrs. Carlton Lindgren; Vice President, Mrs. Edwin Lindgren; Secretary, Mrs. Virgil Bjur; Treasurer, Mrs. Christine Bowman.

The Christian Endeavor Youth Fellowship are the youth of the Christian Endeavor that has been an organization of the First Congregational Church for many years and have always had their meetings with Sunday evening services. For some time, they met in the home of Mrs. Ida Smith (now Mrs. Paulson).

It was then that the young people felt they would like a young people society and meet once a month, that way they would have more time for special discussions. Education and Fellowship have a more spiritual attitude toward their lives and their fellow friends. About thirteen years ago, under direction of Rev. C. Martin and Counselor Mr. Erwin Gruneich, the young people set up a program in which they would have charge of the service every other Sunday evening and meet the 3rd Thursday evening. There is a youth choir which sings in the Worship service regularly. Rev. F. Heydel also organized a band, which renders its service of music at services.

They make contribution to many charitable institutions and support the missionary work of the church and home and abroad.

We feel that the CEYF is a good training school for leadership. With their Pastor Rev. Heydel, Counselors, Mr. William Gackle and Mr. H.J. Herrmann, they feel they have a part in serving Christ in their church and community.

Kulm Lions Club has served the community as an active fraternal organization whose prime function has been aiding the blind, and as a commercial club for 25 years, observing their 25th anniversary at a special banquet April 21, 1967.

The club was founded April 21, 1942, and the Lions have remained the sole survivor of various commercial and civic clubs started through the years. District Governor Walter M. Loomer, Grand Forks, has credited the local club's ties with Lions International for its longevity.

Many city improvements and projects were started by the Lions over the years, though assistance from other organizations and individuals were gratefully received before completion.

Thirty three charter members gathered on April 21, 1942 to organize the group, including six that are still members of the club: Sharpe Pruetz, Oscar Lange, Ernest Gackle, Reinhold Beich, Wilbert Brost and Fred Strobel.

Twelve charter members have passed on since formation of the Club: Emil Anderson, Edwin Hieb, Martin Gackle, F.C. Smith, G.E. Chambers, Ed H. Grosz, C.W. Ware, Dave Brost, Adolph Smith, C.C. Buechler, Fred Fergusson and L.G. Hixon.

Other charter members, no longer with the club, included W.J. Hildebrand, John A. Rath, Dan Hoffman, G.M. Stephens, John A. Flegel, John Zimmerman, N.G. Isaak, Arthur Mueller, Wesley Fredenburg, Otto Beich, Joe Melicher, Peter Eberhard, Harris Miller, J.D. Smith and John J. Gackle. At the banquet held April 21, 1967, awards went to six charter members still with the club and a special award went to Oscar Lange for 25 years faithful service as Lion Tamer. Oscar has led the group, at their monthly supper meetings, in group singing for the full period, with the assistance of Mrs. Lange at the piano for most of those 25 years, and the assistance of Max Buechler on the violin. Max joined the group about 1952.

Receiving awards were former Zone Chairmen Sharpe Pruetz, R.L. Jans, W.E. Brost and Gottlieb Schock. Schock also received an award for being deputy district governor, a post he now holds.

Special mention goes to Dr. J.E. Grenz, who has been a member for 35 years, joining at Napoleon 10 years before organization here.

Past presidents of the club include: Dr. F.W. Fergusson -----April to June 1942 Dr. F.W. Fergusson -----1942-43 W.J. Hildebrand -----1943-44 Wesley Fredenburg -----1944-45 Wilbert E. NEW KULM POSTOFFICE

October, 1961 saw great advances in postal service in Kulm with the grand opening of the new post office. The 25x70 foot building has a brick face, and all modern postal equipment and inside decor. There is a 9x10 patron service area, and an L-shaped outer lobby for box patrons. Modern fluorescent lighting provides plenty of light. There are 285 boxes, concrete loading apron in back, where early morning delivery of mail from the Jamestown Sectional Center gives the postal clerks time to have all first class mail sorted into boxes by opening time at 8 a.m. Metro pick up of mail after closing time, overnight sorting and the early morning deliveries give overnight service for first class mail to almost any point in North Dakota.

[picture: Kulm's Rural Tanker and the five men who organized the rural fire department, Harold Hettich, LeRoy Gackle, Robert Gackle, Wilbert Konrad and John Borth.]

A major addition by the Kulm Volunteer Fire Department brought local fire fighting methods and equipment up to one of the finest in the state in 1961. In October of that year, the new 1000 gallon rural tanker was purchased and fire coverage extended to several complete townships around Kulm. The new truck sparked a building program, financed by the Civic and Improvement Association, for an addition to the fire hall. The three-stall building, 34x36 feet, now houses both the city and rural truck and the city pickup.

The new truck boasts glass lined tank, 30 feet of 2 1/2 inch suction hose that has come in handy many times drawing water from sloughs at rural locations. Also, a 150 ft. reel of 1" hose, and several ladders. A mounted platform and a light hose up front help spray water while driving for field fires.

The new truck has made the Kulm Fire Department one of the finest equipped in the State, and allows firemen to answer alarms a long way out, with city protection still in force, using the other truck. The individuals that signed notes for the new truck, on the strength of additional revenue from added territorial protection, must be given credit for a great deal of foresight.

First Boy Scout troop was started in Kulm in 1916. Mr. Harry E. Emery was the scout leader and Sharpe Pruetz was assistance scout leader. Mr. Emery, at that time, was Superintendent of the Kulm Public School. The troop consisted of seven boys.

Mrs. Oscar Lange and Mrs. Otto Gackle, through help of the Civic League, were active leaders for a number of years.

Outside of a few local camping and outing trips, the boys were taken down to Lake Cormorant, in Minnesota, for a week of recreation consisting of boating, fishing and swimming.

Don Gackle and R.J. Jans reorganized troop 146, after World War II, operated three or four years.

The present cubs and boy scouts have been organized about 4 1/2 years, with membership in the cubs running about 13 to 17. During these years, 10 cubs have graduated to boy scout ranks. The scout movement, in recent years, was mainly through the efforts of Gilbert Holle, now superintendent of schools at Napoleon, Rueben Elhard, Harold Kjos, Reinholt Harr, Art Hollan, Oscar Konrad, Wayne Hieb, Rev. Lawrence Pratt, now in Muskegon, Mich., and the den mothers. Den Mothers, over the 4 1/2 years, have been Mrs. Roland Jans, Mrs. Reinholt Harr, Mrs. Lyle Bethke, Mrs. Richard Stadler, Mrs. Dale Brown, Mrs. Art Hollan, Mrs. Clifford Carlson, Mrs. Arno Krueger and Mrs. Harold Wolf.

A new lighted ball park was dedicated at Kulm, July 14, 1958, with Mayor Dan Hoffman throwing out the first baseball. The park has been used in the fall by the high school football teams for home games and by the Independent baseball team of Kulm during its regular season schedule each summer.

OUR SCHOOLS -

Probably the biggest single improvement in our Kulm School System came in early 1960 when, after state re-organization of school districts, Kulm found their building falling short of requirements. Bids were called early that year for a new elementary school building and the construction of a shop addition to the existing building.

Bids were awarded in June of 1960 with construction to start soon, so that fall of 1961, pupils could be taught in the new building.

The new structure was dedicated on September 27, 1961, with G.B. Nordum, state superintendent of public instruction the featured speaker.

The facilities were expected to be adequate for many years, yet today, in 1967, thoughts are turning toward an addition to school buildings to take care of more students.

Gilbert Holle, superintendent of Kulm Public School District at the time of the 1957 Jubilee, has moved to Napoleon, where he is superintendent, and he has been replaced in Kulm by Owen Wallace, formerly high school principal. Wallace served a year at Mott before coming back to Kulm as superintendent.

BUSINESS CHANGES -

Time has passed since 1957, and some businesses have passed from the scene with time. Those that stayed have made many changes and improvements, keeping up with the technological revolution on the farm, and in the home. An updating of businesses listed in the 1957 book and major changes and improvements, or suspensions, are presented here for your information.

STANDARD SERVICE STATION

[picture] What has long been known as John Stroehl's Standard Service Station was sold by John to Boyd's Service in Jamestown during April of 1965, but before Mr. Boyd took possession, it was purchased by Robert Buerkley, present owner. Bob took over in June of 1965, and has remodeled the garage and station part, adding an all-weather garage for his AAA and Standard Motor Club service truck. John, who had been operating the station since 1932, (Refer to 1957 book), is devoting full time to Stroehl Auto Wrecking. Bill Delzer, referred to in the 1957 book, has long since discontinued the repair service.

Bob Buerkley has up to date equipment and methods to take care of your auto. The part time staff consists of Marvin Ost and Larry Himmerich. Julie Wolf is bookkeeper.

KULM LUMBER

[picture] Formerly Salzer Lumber Company, Harold Luck, the manager for Salzer, bought the year during May of 1965. (Refer to 1957 book). The yard has a large business of home and farm building contracting, building granaries and cattle feeders. James Lundgren is second man.

GEORGE'S ELECTRIC

[picture] Ossie George does electrical contracting, and motor repair, at his home in Kulm, working on various home, businesses, and governmental projects in the Kulm area. Recently, Mr. and Mrs. George petitioned for annexation to the city and were annexed. Oswald is presently a city councilman.

GUST REPAIR SHOP

[picture] The A.A. Gunst Repair Shop still functions under the hand of Mr. Gunst at the same location in Kulm.

KRAMLICH LOCKER SERVICE

[picture] Reinhold Kramlich and family took over the locker plant in the A.J. Smith Business Block, July 1, 1962, and since have served an excellent brand of local sausage and all meat products available. The Kramlichs had a large slaughtering and meat cutting business on their farm west of Kulm, and moved into the locker when Signar Lundgren and John Ruff stopped. Current staff for Kramlich's is Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Kramlich, Mrs. Fred Grosz, Mrs. Herbert Schlauch, and Donald Kramlich.

The Kramlichs do custom meat work, taking care of individuals who have their own meat, as well as sell and process their meat. In the fall of the year, Kramlichs take care of processing for many of the deer shot in Kulm area during hunting season.

SCHLAUCH PLBG. & HTG.

[picture] Oscar Schlauch worked for Brauer Plumbing and Heating until March of 1963, when he formed his own firm, doing plumbing and heating repair and installation work.

FARMERS CO-OPERATIVE LUMBER COMPANY

[picture] The Co-op Lumber Co. became independent from the Farmers Co- Operative Elevator Company in 1961, and has steadily improved their facilities by building a new wood Quonset, for storing building materials, in 1963. In 1966, further facilities were constructed in the form of an open- faced shed. The company has purchased and uses a delivery truck for better service to customers.

Managers of the company, since its separation from the elevator, have been Henry soli, William Busch, and the present manager, Maynard Johnnes. Allan Presler is second man.

Gottlieb Hartman, Henry Miller, Edwin Malm, Walter Puhlman, Fred Vogel and Ted Buerkle have served as directors of the company since 1961. The present board members are Denvy Malm, chairman of the board; Art Hollan, vice chairman; Lloyd Hildebrand, secretary; William Staeck, Wilbert Kinzler, Oscar Geiszler and Erland Blomquist directors.

[picture of family] Maynard Johannes, son of the late Milton Johannes and Mrs. R.C. Cleveland, was born in Underwood, October 10, 1925. He was married to Joyce Liedholm, Washbur, N. Dak., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Liedholm, on September 15, 1948. Their children are Sally Ann 8 years old, Joann Marie 12 years, Lyle Maynard 17, all at home, Michael Wade 19, is in the U.S. Army, stationed at Fort Jackson, South Carolina. Maynard Johannes has worked for the Farmers Co-op Lumber Co. since April 1963.

C & H SERVICE

[picture] Chris Kruse and Herbert Hilscher started C & H Service when Dan Hoffman sold out the Kulm Super Service in September of 1961. They stayed in the Super Service building until May of 1963, when they moved to the Old Schott Farm Implement Building, their present location. In addition to Chris and Herb, Leo Kalmbach does mechanic work. The boys are pretty busy, especially during farm rush periods, with repair work, and during the repair season. The boys do excellent work.

PALM'S DEPARTMENT STORE

GACKLE BROTHERS GRAIN COMPANY

[picture] The Grain Company continued from 1957 under the managership of George Gackle, one of the brothers, until September of 1965, when George passed on. Since then, the company has hired Rueben Goehring as manager. Rudolph Herman has been a longtime employee of the firm.

GACKLE BROS. GARAGE

[picture] Gackle Bros. Garage has changed little since the last Jubilee, except for the new technology required to repair and service the modern farm implements. Robert Gackle is still in charge of the garage, with Hugo Schulz, Herbert Johnson, Jacob Wolff and Albert Elhard doing repair work.

BORTH PRODUCE

[picture] John Borth started for North American Creamery in 1948, and commenced buying for Armour's in Bismarck. (Refer to 1957 book). At the present time, John buys for Gackle Creamery. Changes in farm milking habits have left few farmers selling milk, cream or eggs. John now is cashier at the Fredonia Paying and Receiving Station for Kulm State Bank, and the cream station is operated on a part time basis.

CARLSON AND SJOSTROM

[picture] Harley Carlson and Morris Sjostrom opened up their present implement business at the north end of Main Street in February of 1959. They acquired the Case distributorship previously, and since have added New Holland, and many other brands of implements.

During 1966, the partners added a new steel addition to the front of their Quonset building, giving much new display space and more room for mechanical work and parts.

Presently, hauling, repair and yard work, at Carlson and Sjostrom, is Harold Podoll and Veryle Bjur.

ART'S SUPER VALU

[picture] Still occupying a part of the A.J. Smith Business Block is Art Krein's Super Valu Store. Mr. and Mrs. Krein have been in continuous business at the location since 1948. Their present staff, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Krein, are: Hattie Krueger, Mrs. Robert Keller and Jerry Elhard.

STANDARD OIL BULK

[picture] Cleon Hoggarth bought the bulk business from Gottlieb Schock in 1960, and services Standard outlets in town as well as direct bulk sales to homes and farms. In 1966, Cleon began selling and applying weed sprays for cattle, weeds, and trees. He has a 4-wheel drive mounted weed sprayer and applies the products as well as sells them.

SOO LINE

[picture] One of Kulm's old landmarks, the Soo Line Depot, still stands along the right-of-way through the city, with Harry Nelson continuing as agent. Bernard Rasch, assistant section fireman and Clarence Hehr live in Kulm and are employed by the Soo Line.

Modern paved roads have diminished the way freight volume and many stations, smaller than Kulm, have been closed by the Soo. But a large volume of grain is shipped by rail and freight service is still almost daily.

Passenger service east and west was halted in July of 1964, bringing to an end the days that old timers talk of, when they rode the Soo to Minneapolis with cattle, for medical care, vacation or what not.

FRED STROBEL DRAYAGE

[picture] Nowadays in Kulm, when drayage is necessary, we call on Fred Strobel. Fred has trucks to do local hauling and handles coal for the city, and way freight that comes in by Soo Line. Other hauling jobs are handled for individuals and businesses in town by Fred. Fred also sells insurance. He has been handling freight since 1962.

FARMERS CO-OPERATIVE ELEVATOR CO.

[picture; refer to 1957 book] Farmers Co-Operative Elevator of Kulm has long been progressive and made regular improvements in their buildings and service as the 1957 Jubilee book attests. Since 1957, seeing the need again for more storage, the stockholders voted to build a 100,000 bushel annex in 1958. Then, in 1960, the grain co-op was separated from the lumber co-op to protect the tax status of the grain co.

March 31, 1964, the Farmers Elevator celebrated its fiftieth anniversary. This was attended by 400 stockholders and friends. Pres. Hartman introduced Emil Loriks, Pres. Of G.T.A. board of directors, who presented the elevator with a plaque in recognition of a half century of cooperative building and service by farmers to their community. Ed. Smith, Pres. of North Dakota Farmers Union, spoke and congratulated patrons, managers, and board of directors for 50 years of successful operation and growth. Many bouquets of flowers were received from local business establishments for this occasion.

This organization started in 1904 with only a few stockholders, who bought an elevator for $8,000, has grown to 563 stockholders, who have $180,950.00 in local earnings, and received $102,842.50 in cash dividends and stock retirement for the period of January, up to 1967. The total sales for and to patrons amounted to $1,154,896.97 and handled 909,000 bushels of grain for the year of 1966.

The elevator started shipping part of their grain to G.T.A., but, in 1945, the directors voted to ship 100% of them for which the stockholders have received an additional $123,050.00 in stock credits.

Albert Buerkle has been employed by the elevator since 1939, and has been manager for the last 16 years. Albert Hehr is assistant manager, and Glen Goehring as third man.

The present board consists of Gottlieb Hartman, president; Herman Hermann, vice president; Edwin Malm, secretary; Henry Miller, Lawrence Vogel, Clayton Zachrison, and William Kleingartner directors.

The board of directors feel this organization has been a great asset to this community and to the city of Kulm.

AUCTIONEERS

[picture] Early auctioneers in Kulm were Fred and Martin Gackle. At the present time, Harold Fregien, Albert Heidinger and D.J. Harter are licensed to conduct sales.

GACKLE BROS., INC.

[picture] Gackle Bros., Inc. has continued on since 1957, selling hardware, furniture, automobiles and implements. (Refer to 1957 book). Since 1957, active management of the store has been in the hands of Ernest Gackle and Robert Gackle. Ernest is the surviving brother of the Gackle family and Robert is the son of Otto Gackle.

Martin W. Gackle died in September, 1958; Otto in June of 1958; and George in September of 1965. John and Fred had died previous to 1957.

The store affiliated with Gamble-Skogmo in April of 1961, bringing the chain's lines of hardware and furniture into Kulm.

The present staff at Gackle Bros. Includes Ernest and Bob, plus Russell Gackle, LeRoy Gackle, Harold Hettich, Mrs. Fred Strobel and Mrs. Alice Gackle.

HOFFER GARAGE

[picture] Oscar Hoffer opened his own garage in Kulm after the Kulm Mill Company burned down in the spring of 1963. Oscar had worked for the Mill Company and Brost Bros. In recent years.

Mechanical work is his specialty, and "Dingle" makes some pretty good ice augers for winter fishing.

KULM CREDIT UNION

[picture: Manager-Treasurer Irene Hehr, President Fred Vogel, Director Eugene Anderson, Director and Secretary Walter Kusler, Directors William Staeck and Edwin Lundgren.]

The Kulm Credit Union was organized March 23, 1950. (Refer to 1957 book). It is a self-help financial organization, owned and operated by its members, for its members for their savings and loans. The Kulm Credit Union has grown to a membership of 686 and total assets of $481,915.52.

The present Board of Directors are: Fred Vogel, president; William Staeck, vice president; Walter Kusler, secretary; Edwin Lundgren and Eugene Anderson, directors; Mrs. Albert Hehr, treasurer; supervisory committee: Lee Hartman, Lyle Bethke, and Oscar Giesler; credit committee: LeRoy Olson, Herman Herrmann, and Reuben Hehr; educational committee: Mrs. Clayton Zachrison, Mrs. G.G. Herman, Mrs. James Herman, Ronald Brost, and Wilbert Kinzler.

DOCTORS

[picture] Dr. J.E. Grenz, dentist in Kulm at the time of the 1957 Jubilee, still serves Kulm and surrounding area, living here with Mrs. Grenz. His son Lester worked for the Kulm Messenger and has since become apprenticed at the Grand Forks Harold, and now works there as a journeyman printer. (Refer to 1957 book. Dr. Aarma no longer serves Kulm.)

Dr. Cameron ended his service in Kulm in the early months of 1958. Dr. Kenneth Harris, Gackle, served Kulm also for a short time in 1958. In September of 1960, Dr. Eugene Bolliger came to Kulm and served until early 1964. Kulm was without a medical doctor until July, 1964, when Dr. Allen Hill came.

Mrs. Anna Bjornson is the present secretary and treasurer of the Health Center Board and has been since M.W. Gunter resigned in 1959.

NELSON RADIO AND TV

[picture] Albert Nelson's radio and television shop is still in business, doing radio and t.v. repair and service. See 1957 book.

SWEDE TOWNSHIP TELEPHONE COMPANY

The Swede Township Telephone Company was organized October 1st, 1908. Incorporated and granted Charter on April 7th, 1909, with G.H. Davidson, Rudolph Ogren, Jacob Bjur and J.A. Tjernlund as the original board of directors.

It has furnished rural telephone service to Swede Township and adjacent area continuously since that date. Present board of directors are: D.C. Malm, president; Victor Ogren, vice president; Erland Blomquist, secretary- treasurer; and Edwin Malm and Lester Bertnson, directors.

KULM CAFE

[picture] Jim and Hermoine Weatherly operated the cafe in the brick annex to the Anderson store, which had been used as a restaurant for a number of years. In October of 1961, they opened in the new building they now occupy, with first class restaurant services and a fine banquet room used for meetings, family occasion suppers, organization banquets, etc.

On the staff at the cafe are Mrs. Amelia Speidel and daughter Loretta, Mrs. Evelyn (Marvin) Ost, Mrs. Annetta Hauff, Mrs. Eleanore Buerkley, and Mrs. Marlene Schuett.

The old cafe building is vacant. Mrs. Weatherly does a fine job of catering large groups, and served the 25th anniversary banquet for the Lions Club a fine meal. There were approximately 170 present.

KULM STATE BANK

[picture] Kulm State Bank is noting its 60th year of business in 1967, and has an unblemished record of never closing, except for normal closing hours and the forced bank holidays in 1932, decreed by President Roosevelt. (Refer to 1957 book).

The 60th year has marked a few milestones, notably, at times during the past year, footings (assets) reached the $3,000,000 mark; and closing assets were $125,000 over last year.

Mr. William Jans officially retired from the bank in January, 1957, but remains as chairman of the board of directors, with Sharpe Pruetz, president; M.C. Buechler, vice president; R.L. Jans, cashier; Wayne M. Hieb, cashier; and John Borth, assistant cashier in charge of the Paying and Receiving Station in Fredonia. Marcella Ogren and Mrs. Robert Buerkley are cashier employees of the bank at the present time.

CIVIC & IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

[picture] Still in their building that was relatively new at the time of the 1957 Jubilee (Refer to old book), the Civic and Improvement Association operates the only liquor store in town. The association contributed a great deal towards getting the rural fire truck and fire hall, and in more recent years wrote a check out for an $11,000 reseal of the city's paved streets.

Present board members are: Wilbert Konrad, Robert Gackle, LeRoy Gackle, Harold Hettich, William Brauer, and Wayne Hieb.

Tending bar are Sam Henke and Ralph Widmer, with a part time assist of Harold Wolff.
